

MuseumPests.net

A Product of the Integrated Pest Management Working Group

From Page: monitoring, section : bibliography - Monitoring
Monitoring

Blyth, Valerie. "Carpet Beetle the Detection, Monitoring of a Complex Site." in International Conference of Bio Deterioration of Cultural Property.

———. "Insect Trapping; The Key to Pest Management." in Pest Prints Nordic Symposium, eds David Pinner, and Helen Kingsley.

———. "Pest Management at the Victoria and Albert Museum." in Post Prints, UKIC Furniture Section, Pest Control in Organic Materials 1996.

Burkholder, WE, and JK. Phillips. "Trapping Techniques for Dermestid and Anobiid Beetles." in A Guide To Museum Pest Control. eds L. A. Zycherman, and JR Schrock Washington DC: Foundation of the American institute for the Conservation of Historic and Artistic works the Association of Systematic Collections, 1998.

Florian, Mary-Lou. Heritage Eaters: Insects and Fungi in Heritage Collections James & James Publishers, 1997.

Hillyer, L, and V Blyth. "Carpet Beetles A Pilot Study in Detection and Control." The Conservator 16 (1992): 65-77.

Kesse, Erich. Know the Signs of Insect Infestation.

Kingsley, Helen, David Pinner, Amber Xavier-Rowe, and Peter Winsor. Integrated Pest Management for Collections, Proceedings of 2001: A Pest Odyssey English Heritage.

Linnie, Martyn J. "Intergrated Pest Management: A Proposed Strategy for Natural History Museums." Museum Management and Curatorship 15 , no. 2 (1996): 133-43.

National Park Service. " National Park and Service Intergrated Pest Management Manual." Web page, Available at <http://www.nature.nps.gov/biology/ipm/manual/museum.cfm>.

Strang, Thomas J. K. "Detecting Infestations: Facility Inspection Procedure and Checklist." CCI Note 3/2, Canadian Conservation Institute, Monitoring and Detection, 1996.

———. "Preventing Infestations: Control Strategies and Detection Methods." CCI Note 3/1, Canadian Conservation Institute, 1996.

The Chicora Foundation. Managing: Pests in Your Collections.